Charities Evaluation Services is an award-winning national charity and the UK's leading provider of consultancy, training and support on quality and evaluation.

Consultant and trainer

London-based (some travel required)

Full time

£32,429 - £36,363 p.a.

We want a skilled and engaging person to join our dynamic evaluation team. You will have excellent research or evaluation experience and an interest in training. Ideally you will also have experience as a trainer. You will have a passion for, and working knowledge of, the UK third sector.

The work gives you the opportunity to build on your proven track record while working with experts in the field. You will need to commit to developing yourself but in return you will find the role challenging, varied and interesting. We offer a competitive salary and excellent working conditions.
