

Sub-sector: Crime reduction

Title	Passport to evaluation: an introduction to evaluating crime reduction initiatives and projects
Developed by	Home Office Crime Reduction Centre
Year published	2002
Developed for	Voluntary/statutory/private sector; particular groups/sub sectors e.g. homeless, health
Available from	Training Resource Solutions, Home Office Crime Reduction Centre, 0870 241 4680 homeoffice@prolog.uk.com
Price	Can be downloaded in sections from www.crimereduction.gov.uk/learningzone/reading.htm#evaluation
Approach	Self-evaluation
Practical tools
Use of case examples	It includes examples throughout and a case study where readers can practice the key points of evaluation.
Lists additional resources	Limited
Size	112pp
Description	The Passport is a self-learning document that can be worked through in its entirety by those new to evaluation. Those who already have some experience can skip some sections, using the Passport as a reminder. The book contains sections on the context and process of evaluation and looks at other issues to consider. A glossary sets out the definitions of key terms used in the evaluation process.