Building a Stronger Civil Society

How can the government best help infrastructure support the frontline?

The Office of Civil Society has launched Building a Stronger Civil Society, their strategy for supporting the sector. In association with this they have released the consultation - Supporting a Stronger Civil Society - and are seeking your views on how best they can support infrastructure organisations.

Question 9 of the consultation asks infrastructure bodies 'How can central Government best work with national infrastructure to support and deliver the Big Society?' Click here to read the consultation and have your say.

The deadline for responses to this question is the 25th November.

Quality case study

Meet Charlotte, a POASSO mentor currently supporting groups through the process of implementing POASSO.

Read her story to find out why she feels external support is important for frontline groups when they work towards a quality mark, and discover how becoming a POASSO mentor has benefited both her own organisation, and the organisations she supports.
